Welcome to the April edition of SGR.

I am frantically finishing this edition in the hope you get to read it before the end of April!

I won't bore you with details but fate seems to have conspired to delay me even more this month. It has however allowed me the opportunity to add Fred and Nick's eulogy to David Kirby. A large number of us joined Margaret at the Parish Church in Pocklington for David's memorial. It was fitting tribute to a man of many talents.

Happy reading...

Louise

From the Vicarage

Hello Everyone

Our Tour de Yorkshire bunting is already strung across the front of the house. I don't know if we will get fined by the parish council for having it out too early. I also have to confess it is non-regulation bunting as it is blue, yellow and white with Yorkshire roses. But we are already greatly looking forward to 3 May.

I have been showing greater restraint in my Lenten disciplines, trying not to over-anticipate Easter. Alcohol consumption is down and my trip to the pub on Sunday was for a baptism party, strictly business not pleasure. So is chocolate consumption, with the eating of Easter eggs, even the Cadburys cream egg kind, off the snack menu.

Beyond the prohibitions a more positive dimension to Lenten practice is watching the sunrise with Betty each morning (Betty is a dog). We drive to Surprise View and depending on how cold it is and how impressive the sunrise, we walk briefly or for longer. This morning it was extremely blue sky all round and dazzling sun. More often than not it has been overcast and extremely windy.

We have the place to ourselves although this morning there was a campervan parked up. Also someone frequently parks very early and cycles to work in all weather conditions - deeply impressive, a masochistic form of park and ride. These early mornings are a discipline, but they also give me a lot of joy. Some people find an early night and a long sleep health-giving and something beautiful. Whatever works for you.

Lent is a great opportunity to practice disciplines that give us joy, so that when Easter comes the practices are in place for more joy, more celebration. I'd love to hear how you are preparing for the joy of Easter morning.

MARGARET AMATO

Getting to know...

Margaret was born in Rodley and was educated at Intake school. She has had a wide life experience working as a secretary/ PA. She also worked in retail management, in many parts the UK, including Warwickshire and Staffordshire. For two years she lived in South Africa. Despite having spent some time away from Yorkshire she is a true Yorkshirephile and in particular loves the East Coast, especially Whitby. Having spent 23 years in Cookridge she moved to Bramhope where she has lived for 13 years. During this latter period she has worshipped regularly at St Giles and one of her first connections to St Giles was when her company printed the church magazine. Although she has worshipped regularly at other churches she is definitely keen to maintain strong links with St Giles, especially the 8:15 am and 9:30 am services.. Beware those who may sit by the radiator on the right-hand side of the church, three rows from the front near the lectern - this is Margaret's seat!

Margaret has three sons and one daughter who live in the North of England, five grandchildren, the eldest of which is 24 and 3 great grandchildren .

She is a keen fan of rugby union and in particular Otley. For many years she was a regular attendee at Leeds United, both home and away matches, and was gutted when Leeds lost to Sunderland in the FA Cup some years ago.

David Kirby Memorial service April 4, 2019

Margaret asked Fred Archenhold to talk about David's involvement with St Giles', the Parish church of Bramhope and his commitment to the local Historical Society. Unfortunately Fred could not be with at the service and he has asked Nick Pinches to deliver his words.

Fred writes:

David and Margaret's arrival in the village of Bramhope in 2004 coincided with a vacancy at St Giles. It is not difficult to imagine what happened next! David began to make, and continued to make for the next 14 years, an invaluable contribution to the spiritual life of St Giles. Those of us who worshipped at St Giles were privileged to have him in our midst.

Many of us in the congregation found, either in private discussions with David or listening to his sermons, that the ideas underpinning the spiritual basis of his churchmanship resonated with ours and helped us to think more deeply about the nature of faith.

During his 14 years' association with St Giles, David gave his unstinting support to the resident vicar, or, during vacancies, the churchwardens, by taking services, weddings, baptisms and funerals, as well as providing pastoral care.

David was a popular speaker at Bramhope Historical Society. He and Margaret travelled from Pocklington only a few months ago to give an illustrated talk about their recent exploration of Armenia.

One of the 9 presentations David made, on a variety of topics, was on 'Holy Wells'. In passing he mentioned that many 'holy' wells are named after Helena, the mother of Constantine the Great, the first Roman emperor to become a Christian. We then remembered that a local caravan park within the parish of Bramhope is named 'St Helena's Caravan Park'. So David and I, led by his Labrador Damson, set out with a map to try and find a 'well' within the grounds of the caravan park. I am pleased to say that we did eventually find some water in a broken stone structure hidden in some undergrowth. We both gave full credit to Damson for sniffing it out first!

Nick then spoke about David at the Rotary Club of Headingley.

It wasn't too long after David arrived in the village before he was asked to become one of the 1.3 million Rotarians in the world. In true 'David' fashion he didn't just join – he got involved; really involved. Members quickly came to know him and soon recognised his exceptional intellect,

CATS & TODDLERS

We are so sad to be losing Kevin from our team but wish him well in his retirement, giving him more time with his family and supporting Asylum Seekers. His last date is March 27 and we'll miss him so much. Thanks to you and Jill for your vision for CATS, formulated 5 years ago, I do hope we can follow in your footsteps! In the meantime if you would like to give some time to CATS (Wednesday mornings, term time only) please speak to Gill or Nick. We particularly would welcome someone who can give help getting out the toys at 8:30am.

At CATS Toddler Praise we talked about Jesus calming the Storm. The parachute came in very helpful in demonstrating the storm and I think Jesus must have got a little sea sick bouncing up and down! Our next meeting of CTP is May 1.

CHILDREN'S SOCIETY

Sue and Ken Ball hosted a Cheese and Wine lunch on Sunday 24 March in the Church committee room to celebrate 40 years of the Children's Society committee in Bramhope. Several past members of the committee attended and there was much laughter and reminiscing about past fund raising events and looking at old photographs. Sue was given a certificate and letter of thanks from the headquarters of the Society thanking her for her hard work over the last 9 years. It was most enjoyable and many thanks to Sue and Ken for organising this.

The current committee is now much depleted so if anyone feels they would like to join us they would be most welcome. We hope to continue with the Box Opening and the sale of Christmas cards and quizzes and helping with the Christingle Services. The amount raised this year is £5,400. Jo Simpson will continue as treasurer and the fundraising events and accounts are displayed on our notice board in the Church Hall following our AGM in February.

CIRCLE DANCING

On Tuesday 28 February 1995, we held the very first Dancing session of the St. Giles group. I had previously led an evening of "Song and Dance" for our Women's Fellowship, and many of them said they had enjoyed it so much, especially the dancing, they were keen to do more, on a regular basis. So we booked the hall for every last Tuesday of the month, and the new group was born. Amongst the first members was Judy Boardman, Joyce Creswick, Ann Atherton, Hazel Lee, Alison Inman, Beryl Hogg. They were soon joined by Sue Ball, Ann Marshall, Jean Snowball and many of my friends. So it soon changed to every fortnight and became a close, very happy group of dancers. And still it continues.

Tuesday of this week, we decided to celebrate its success by dancing the same programme as on that first evening. A beautiful iced cake appeared, and the circle of candles on top played Happy Birthday for our 24 years, and opened out into a lotus flower, which was quite remarkable as we had just done the Lotus Flower Dance, with our arms doing the same movements to imitate a lotus flowers opening out!! People have come and gone, and moved away. Unfortunately our feet don't remain nippy for ever, and in July I shall be joining the long list of dancers who have very reluctantly had to give it up.

But our group will continue thankfully. Janet Lockwood from Ilkley will be taking over as the leader in September. I would have been very upset if it had had to close.

MEN'S SUPPER CLUB

Hi all, the March meeting was a great evening with a gourmet meal from our caterer of a chicken and broccoli crumble with veg and roasties, followed by cherry pie and custard. 26 members enjoyed an interesting after dinner talk about Thuscross and Angram Reservoirs - just a great evening.

NO meeting for April but May 16 is Ladies Evening with a wartime concert by Serendipity and a hot buffet meal promises to be a fantastic evening. see Jim or Martin for more details. Hope to see you all there and make the team's hard work worthwhile.

WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP

On March 12 the group were entertained by Sarah Thomkins who gave a stimulating talk on 'Anything Chocolate', where it is grown, the different types of chocolate and the skill of making chocolate. We learnt some useful tips, such as the essential requirement of getting the temperature spot on. We received samples of her delightful products and we will have the opportunity of buying more as she is booked in for the Christmas Fayre. Our next talk is on April 9 at 8pm when Lesley Newnham will speak on 'Trandescants plants'.

Meet and eat

March 6 was the last gathering for Meet and Eat, but only until later in the year! It was with some fear and trepidation that I embarked on taking over the organising of this event as I had some “big boots” to fill. It had been run successfully for so many years by Mary Burrell and I really wanted it to continue as a tribute to her. My daughter laughed when I told her what I was proposing to do as she pointed out, I used to panic if I had to cater for more than 4 people!

As it has turned out I needn't have worried. We have been quite successful in feeding on average about 30 people a two course lunch for £5 and have had favourable comments. All our meat is locally sourced from Wilkinson's butchers, Nigel looking after our needs very well and providing his expert advice on cooking times etc.

Of course this has not been achieved by me alone and I would like to say a huge thank you to the happy band of helpers who turn up every month and assist in the cooking, serving and washing up. Everyone is happy to “muck” in and help out when and where needed.

We shall begin again on October 2 so put the date in your diaries and we look forward to welcoming new and old who would like to “Meet and Eat “ on the first Wednesday of the month from October through to March 2020.

Sheila Williams

a talent that many tried to take advantage of by somehow manoeuvring themselves onto the same quiz team as him.

Having learnt about his time of ministry in the Algarve as well as his other overseas 'forays', he soon became Chair of the club's International Committee which aims to capitalise on Rotary's world-wide reach. In the headlines recently, due to the Mozambique Cyclone disaster, is Shelter Box. Rotary is a major partner with this Charity, which for a cost of about £600 provides to those in desperate short-term need. A single box contains a family sized tent, cooking utensils, and other items essential for survival, and tools to start rebuilding a home. This is one of the two charities that Margaret has chosen to share the proceeds of today's retiring collection.

The club considers the International aspect of Rotary a reason to explore other cultures and just 11 months ago David led us on a wonderful 'International' 3-day trip to Gdansk on the Baltic coast of Poland. Many members here today will remember this international visit as being 'one of the best'.

As mentioned earlier, David was always willing, when asked, to give a talk on a topic of interest. Despite his professional speciality being geography, he nearly always chose an historical matter to challenge members. I particularly remember the title of one of his talks "The Brussen Men of Elmete" which took us back into the Dark Ages of English history. David became President of the club for a year in 2012. He took on the challenge with his usual vigour, and during his time in office he started the club's support for Leeds Foodbanks which were in the process of being set up. It wasn't long before he and Margaret took on the regular commitment of running a Foodbank outlet centre in the Harehills district of Leeds and arranging the collection of food donated by club members. This, they continued until they moved here last autumn. Hence the Leeds South and East Foodbanks is the second charity that Margaret has chosen.

David took every opportunity to join in the everyday life of Bramhope and the surrounding area. In addition to his interests and activities afore mentioned, he loved singing with the Otley Choral Society, and I understand he had just taken steps to join a similar group here in Pocklington. He loved taking Damson for walks and he enjoyed visits to the theatre with Margaret, both indoors and out. The photo on the back of the service sheet was taken at an outdoor performance of Kinren in Bishop Auckland. It wasn't a balmy summer's evening!

Finally, David was a great friend of many people. He was good company and warmed our hearts with his relaxed conviviality, quick wit and wise counsel.

He will be sadly missed by all who came to know him during his time with us in Bramhope.

David we salute you. May you rest in peace.

A wisdom story

During the Middle Ages, a traveller came upon a place in France where a great deal of building work was going on. He began talking with the stone cutters and asking them about their work. He approached the first worker and asked, "What are you doing?"

The man, very disgruntled, and obviously unhappy in his hard toil, replied, "I'm cutting these huge boulders with the simplest of tools and putting them together in the way I have been told to do. I am sweating in this heat and my back is hurting. What's more, I'm totally bored, and I wish I didn't have to do this hard and meaningless job."

The traveller moved on quickly to interview a second worker. He asked the same question: "What are you doing?"

The worker replied, "Well, I have a wife and children at home, so I come here every morning and work these boulders into regular shapes as I'm told to do. It gets repetitive sometimes, but it helps feed my family, and that's all I want."

Somewhat encouraged, the traveller went to a third worker. "And what are you doing?" he asked

The third worker responded with shining eyes, as he pointed up to the heavens, "I'm building a cathedral!"
