The humble bicycle

One of the most imaginative passion plays I have participated in was The Headingley Hero by local Leeds playwright and author, Dan Ingram-Brown. This collaboration about ten years ago by Headingley Churches Together began with a 'triumphal procession' down the drive of my former parish, St Chad's, Far Headingley, with Jesus on a bicycle riding between a row of cars with bonnets raised and beeping their horns.

We catch up with Jesus railing against politicians and people of power at the St Chad's War memorial. This has swift repercussions when he is arrested outside Kentucky Fried Chicken and taken to be tried outside St Michael's Church. Jesus is then crucified in the rose garden outside the Arc, then his body carried unceremoniously off wrapped in a sheet... Given that the passion play was a Good Friday, we were only given a hint of the resurrection at the end.

If Jesus came back today what mode of transport would he favour? Probably nothing beats walking for itinerant ministry and the opportunities for genuine face-to-face encounters with people. I wonder, however, if the humble bicycle in a procession (maybe not one with thirty gears that costs as much as a brand new car) might be the modern day equivalent of a donkey.

On the third day he rode again?

Getting to know...

I suppose you could say I'm a local lass - born in Shadwell and Christened at St. Edmund's Church in Roundhay, my family moved to Huby when I was 3 years old. I enjoyed growing up amid village life until heading to University in Wolverhampton where I studied Languages and Business. After graduating, and having adopted rather a disconcerting Brummy accent, I moved further south to brave life in London for a few years, eventually ending up in leafy Surrey which was much more my cup of tea!

Despite having ambitions to be a Master of Wine my career followed a path in Human Resources management, primarily in the engineering industry. Whilst I have worked mainly for large international organisations, and still do, I set up my own consultancy for a while providing HR services to small local companies. This was scary but a hugely satisfying achievement!

Having become acclimatised to warmer climes for 30 years, it was finally time to don my thermals and return to Yorkshire to keep a closer eye on my mother whose health had been struggling. I found a house in The Rowans and in 2012 was delighted to move back to the lovely village of Bramhope. Strangely enough, even though I spent time looking around for the 'right' church, it was a few years later that I 'found' St. Giles, or rather that St. Giles found me!

I'll never forget my first visit – for some reason I thought the service started at 10:30am so arrived just as the 9:30 service was coming to an end. Janice had brought the children to the front to share their artwork which was a lovely moment and, despite being terribly late, I was given a wonderfully warm welcome by the church wardens and by everyone I was introduced to.

That was 5 years ago now - I still usually attend the Sunday service at 9:30am and thankfully haven't been quite so late since then! Over the years the church has provided great opportunities to get involved and, despite moving to Adel last year, I still see St. Giles as my church family. The children theme has continued since day 1 as I've enjoyed involvement in Messy Church sessions as well as co-ordinating the 4th Sunday children's activities. Thanks to the group of willing volunteers, we managed to keep this going through the year after Janice retired. I'm now also trying my hand with flower arranging despite having a lot to learn before I can emulate the other magnificent displays.

Whilst I don't have a lot of spare time I do enjoy gardening and pottering with my cat Chloe, as well as travelling and the arts. I have also followed in my father's footsteps as committee member and secretary for the Almscliffe Village Hall in Huby, back where it all began!

All in all I do believe that a church is a reflection of its worshippers, and I consider myself hugely blessed for the wonderful people I have met and the lovely friends I have made. Thank you St. Giles!

CATS & TODDLERS

It was such a horrible wet day on the 8th May but our CATS family still turned up. We welcomed 3 new members too which was really lovely. Still more babies too and some more pending. In CTP we learnt about Jesus being alive and not everyone being who they seem to be.....even Pete the sheep came along disguised. Our activity was a version of not Simple Simon but Jesus says. Next CTP is on 5th June at 10am.

CIRCLE DANCING

Sadly, our Dancing Group has to close down at the end of July when I retire. Unfortunately, Janet Lockwood who was to have taken over as the new leader in September now feels she is unable to do so. We are all really disappointed that after 24 years, we are going to have to finish.

We all had a discussion about the future of the group. Over the years, several have left us to start a new group of their own in churches all over Yorkshire. But there's no one at the moment who has the time to commit themselves. It was suggested that they could run the group themselves, with everyone being responsible for one aspect. Marvellous in theory, but very difficult to keep it going effectively. Therefore, it must come to an end.

But we are now such good friends; we couldn't bear the thought of not seeing each other regularly. So it was decided to form a monthly "Social Group", meeting at Garden Centres where there's a café, trips to the theatre, cinema, Art Galleries, etc. .Or just for a walk. Not the same as our dancing, but it will keep us together!

Our final session will be on 16th. July, when our musician friends are coming to play for our dancing. We'll make it a bit of a party. Anyone who has belonged to the group over the years since we evolved from the Women's Fellowship, are invited to come and join us. We'll be doing all the old favourites which we've learned to love, and have a really good "knees-up" and reminisce. Please come.

Refreshments for a Community

The Tour de Yorkshire was approaching! Tom had requested help and the St Giles family had responded along with our fellow Christians at the Methodist Church. I too volunteered (or was I pushed?) to collate the lists and put a plan in place to serve refreshments both in the hall and/or carpark and down on the roadside by the bus stop. So 5 days before the event he emailed me the lists and asked me to lease with Catherine Birkby at the Methodist Church.

Out came the Excel spread sheet and by Monday evening, and somewhat square-eyed, I had a plan. Tuesday saw me emailing as many people as I could to send them the rota. The rest I managed to telephone. It's surprising how many people are out on a Tuesday morning but thank goodness for answer phones! Catherine and I collaborated and decided who would buy what; she the tea and milk, me the coffee.

I had offers of about 8 cakes at the beginning of the week but by Thursday afternoon when I started cutting them up and arranging the pieces in covered trays, more and more appeared. We had intended to use the church gazebo for the bar and refreshments down by the bus stop but all we could find was the frame and no cover. A frantic call to our friends at St John's Adel, brought forth another gazebo and Tom produced a second. We were set.

As it happened the Friday morning brought rain but it didn't appear to dampen spirits. We set the hall with table and chairs and the lovely flowers provided by the Flower Guild (aka Marva). Beer barrels were carefully carried down to beer tent and the pump set up. Two large pump thermos' flasks were filled with boiling water. Paper cups and plastic glasses awaited filling and all we needed were punters.

It was so exciting seeing all the motorbikes going past (how the police seemed to enjoy this participation) and once the women's race had gone through people were ready for warm drinks and cake..... not forgetting the beer. The 8 of us who stayed on site over lunchtime enjoyed our fish and chips (from Popsies, of course) and we'd even remembered the vinegar and tomato ketchup!

In the afternoon the crowds began to build again to watch the Caravan go through and the hiatus between that and the race meant it was time for Prosecco and beer, more teas, coffees and cakes.

By 5 o'clock the refreshments were spent. We were all thrilled that Tom had succeeded in his dream of having the Johnny was out shopping with his Mother one morning on the high street. Feeling a bit bored, he happened to look up at the windows of the nearby cathedral. He wasn't very impressed. From the outside, they looked drab and dull and a bit grimy. He said as much to his Mother when she came out of the supermarket.

"Just let's go inside", she said to him. So they went into the cathedral, and his mother took him to where the big stained-glass windows were.

At first, Johnny was entranced by the magical coloured patterns on the stone floor of the ancient church. They seemed to dance in front of him as the morning light streamed through the mighty windows.

"Look at that," he pointed to the dancing image on the stone floor.

"What is it, Mum?"

"Well", his Mother replied, "actually, that's a saint. See the window up there, which looked so dull from the outside? There's a saint up there in the stained glass, and the light is shining through her and making her picture dance for us here on the stone floor."

Johnny stored up this information in his heart, and the two of them went home for dinner.

A few days later, Johnny's class was having a religious instruction lesson. The teacher was talking about saints.

"What do you think makes a saint?" he asked the class

Johnny's hand shot up. "A saint is someone the sun shines through," he explained. "And when that happens, the stones
